

Housing test

Although housing is not provided directly by the University, many affordable apartments are available within a reasonable distance of campus. Students and parents (if applicable) are ultimately responsible for housing arrangements.